3. PRESENTATION/ACTION/DISCUSSION

A. Municipalities Continuing Disclosure Cooperation Initiative Bond Continuing Disclosure Procedures

Mr. Murphy stated in July of 2009, the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) set up a website called the Electronic Municipal Market Access (EMMA). EMMA is the official repository for information on municipal bonds, which provides free public access to official disclosures, trade data, and other information about the municipal securities market. Between 2011 and 2014, the City contracted with a financial firm to handle the EMMA reporting but there were some errors and missed information. In March of 2014, the SEC announced the Municipalities Continuing Disclosure Cooperation Initiative which gave issuers the opportunity to get caught up on reporting with an extended deadline of December 1, 2014. In September of 2014, the compliance reporting was moved in-house and working with Barnes & Thornburg, LLP, the City refiled the comprehensive annual financial reports for 2004 through 2013. Additionally, the 2004 through 2014 annual financial reports, which are cash basis reports, were filed along with voluntary reports. The reporting was done in order to be in compliance with the SEC as well as providing the information to the public. On November 24, 2014, prior to the deadline, the City self-reported with the SEC. The City also drafted the Bond Continuing Disclosure Procedure which outlines filing responsibilities.

Mr. Faccenda noted the reason for the Special Joint Meeting is to document to the SEC the City has adopted bond continuing disclosure procedures.
