ACHIEVEWELL AWARD RECOGNIZES DEPARTMENT OF PARKS AND RECREATION'S EFFORTS

The City of South Bend will received a Four Star AchieveWELL award from the Wellness Council of Indiana at the Indiana Wellness Summit to be held Thursday, October 8 in Indianapolis.

The award recognizes the exemplary efforts of the Department of Parks and Recreation, citing top management support, wellness planning, promotion and communication, and the creation of supportive environments.

“This award is a source of great pride for South Bend,” says Parks and Recreation Deputy Director Susan O’Connor. “Throughout the year, we have been striving to reach the goals of AchieveWELL. To be recognized in this way is rewarding and inspires us to continue our efforts to benefit City of South Bend employees and the residents we serve.”

AchieveWELL is a statewide program that provides a blueprint to help organizations create a corporate culture that encourages and supports employee health and maintain comprehensive and consistent wellness initiatives.
